

Donnafugata Sherazade Nero d'Avola – Absolutely Delicious

 reversewinesnob.com/donnafugata-sherazade-nero-davola

June 5, 2020

Bring on the pizza! The Donnafugata Sherazade Nero d'Avola.

Nero d'Avola from southwestern Sicily, Italy. The wine was aged 4 months in stainless steel and another 3 months in bottle before release and has 4.4 g/L of residual sugar.

Sample submitted for review. The Donnafugata Sherazade Nero d'Avola has an SRP of $21 and is available for as low as $17. It is imported by Folio Fine Wine Partners.

From the bottle:

Our family has crafted wines in Sicily for over 160 years. Sherazade is a pleasant and fragrant red wine with a red fruit bouquet and caressing tannins. Best served slightly chilled at 15-16C (61-64F).

13% Alcohol

The 2018 Donnafugata Sherazade Nero d'Avola begins with a wonderfully aromatic bouquet full of sour cherry and other assorted berries along with really nice touches of herbs, spice and flowers. The medium-bodied wine tastes fresh with lots of fleshy, sour and juicy fruit wrapped up in a smooth texture with slightly chewy tannins. Absolutely delicious with excellent touches of herbs and spice throughout, bring on the pizza! It ends dry, grippy and long.

Ready to buy? Check your local retailers.

2018 Donnafugata Sherazade Nero d'Avola

TASTE: 9 COST: 4

OVERALL RATING: 7.8

Highly Recommended

Looking for more great wine from Italy? Check out our giant list of The Best Italian Wines Under $20!

